

BREANNA COOKE

Breanna will be studying Classical Voice at the Western Australian Academy of Performing Arts (WAAPA) commencing February this year. The performing arts have always been her passion and she has been involved in music from a very young age.

Breanna started piano lessons at age 5, violin at age 8 and flute at age 13 and she studied singing as well. Her passion is to pursue a career in the performing arts. She hopes to transition into studying musical theatre next year and will be taking dance and acting classes this year to give herself the best chance of making it in the competitive field of musical theatre.

Her ultimate goal is to become a strong triple threat performer and be accepted into professional companies, participating in live theatre. She wants nothing more than to spend tireless hours through sweat and tears rehearsing and performing in order to create a career for herself in musical theatre.
